Fish in a Tree by Lynda Mullaly Hunt ($7.00 Paperback)

Ally is smart enough to fool a lot of smart people. She creates clever yet disruptive distractions to hide her inability to read. However, her new teacher Mr. Daniels sees the bright, creative kid underneath the trouble maker. With his help, Ally learns not to be so hard on herself and not to be ashamed of her dyslexia. She discovers that there's more to her —and to everyone— than a label, and that great minds don't always think alike.

Flipped by Wendelin Van Draanen ($8.00 Paperback)

The first time she saw him, she flipped. The first time he saw her, he ran. That was the second grade, but not much has changed by the seventh. She says: "My Bryce. Still walking around with my first kiss." He says: "It's been six years of strategic avoidance and social discomfort." But in the eighth grade everything gets turned upside down. And just as he's thinking there's more to her than meets the eye, she's thinking that he's not quite all he seemed.

Hidden Talents by David Lubar ($8.50 Paperback)

Martin Anderson and his friends don't like being called losers. But they've been called that for so long even they start to believe it— until Martin makes an incredible discovery: each of his friends has a special hidden talent. Edgeview Alternative School was supposed to be end of the road. But for Martin and his friends, it just might be a new beginning.

The City of Ember by Jeanne DuPrau ($6.00 Paperback)

Lights shine in the city of Ember— but at the city limits the light ends, and darkness goes on forever. Is there a way to save the people of Ember? No one knows. But Lina Mayfleet has found a puzzling document, and Doon Harrow has made discoveries down in the Pipeworks. With these clues, they start their search.
